

Plans for £85million attraction to showcase Jurassic Coast's history

■ COUNCILLOR Ian Bruce above Yeolands Quarry

A STUNNING £85million scheme has been unveiled to put a glass roof over an old Portland quarry and use its rocky surfaces to showcase thousands of Natural History Museum fossils.

Once Jurassica is created at Yeolands Quarry, near The Grove, it could create 200 permanent jobs, up to 300 contributory jobs and attract 800,000 to 950,000 visitors in its first year.

Mike Hanlon, one of Britain's most successful science writers, spoke for a group backing the scheme and told a meeting of Portland Community Partnership that it was the first time he had talked to people en masse about the Jurassica proposal.

He said it was being supported by world famous figures such as Sir David Attenborough and Tim Smit of the Lost Gardens of Heligan and the Eden Project.

by Harry Walton

Mr Hanlon added that Jurassica would be "a jewel in the crown for the Jurassic Coast".

Preliminary sketches for the project have been done by Renzo Piano who designed London's famous Shard building.

They show a 340ft glass roof for the quarry with the aim of housing a host of fossils that the Natural History Museum holds, but doesn't currently display.

Mr Hanlon said the point of Jurassica was to bring the Mesozoic period to life, the era of the dinosaurs when Dorset was home to a series of spectacular marine dinosaurs.

He explained that the attraction would include everything from walk round time areas and a porthole window along the Jurassic coast to an ability for visitors to "fly round" Earth as it was in Jurassic times.

Talks were being held with a Japanese animatronics company to create "something that swims" to illustrate sea monsters and there would also be a section capturing smells of the time, a study area, time sections, galleries, a gift shop but only some car parking.

Mr Hanlon said there

Chris Wyon - Brown

Tragically passed away on the 4th August 2013, aged 34 years. Loving Partner to Anni, Father to Summer and Leyla, Son to John and Paula, Brother to Matthew and Bronwyn and Uncle to Ben and Tom. Words cannot express how much we love you, and you will remain forever in our hearts and souls.

BORN in Basingstoke, Stuart McKenzie has lived in the Bridport area since he was nine-years-old. As a youngster he joined the Bridport Bandits Motor Project, going on to become club treasurer, a post he holds to this day. The 31-year-old works as a sales executive for Lanehouse Group, specialising in Vauxhall and Suzuki sales. He is married with two daughters.

HOW did you get involved with Bridport Bandits?

When I was at Colfox school (aged 13) a flyer from the youth centre with Bandits details on it came round, so me and a friend decided to go down there and never looked back.

WHAT makes the group so special?

The project is very unique in that all the volunteers involved, including myself are exactly that – unpaid volunteers who do it for the love of the project and community. It gives the youngsters a chance to learn mechanical skills from an age of 11 and get a chance to race what they build from the age of 12, which is very appealing to be able to drive a car at that age! We have about six volunteers and approximately 12 to 15 members.

WHAT is Autograss Racing?

Autograss is a non-contact motorsport that takes place on an oval (approximately 400 metre) track using a natural soil surface. Due to the close nature of the racing, thrills and spills are never far away. There are several differing classes of car, from near standard Minis or small hatchbacks through to spaceframed single seaters with monster V8 or twin motorbike power.

How safe is it?

It's very safe indeed, the cars are built to a very strict rule book and have to have full roll cages fitted, along with a purpose built seat, full race harness as well as all competitors having to wear fireproof overalls and approved crash helmet. All cars then have to pass scrutiny checks at the beginning of each meeting.

WHERE do you get the parts / cars to rebuild into racing machines?

For bandits we are very lucky with the general public donating vehicles, failing that we source them through the trade as MOT failures. Sometimes we source bits through eBay for those rarer parts.

WHAT is it about cars and motorsports that fascinates you?

It's very rewarding being able to understand the workings of a car, knowing what to look out for, as well as enjoying the drive. As far as motorsport is concerned, I have a highly competitive nature and the adrenaline rush you get participating is awesome, as well as being able to push a car to its absolute limits in a safe environment.

FAVOURITE car you've ever owned?

It's got to be my first road car, which was a classic Mini in red, I bought it at the age of the 15 and slowly built the car to a standard for the road, customizing it along the way. I used the car for a few years as well as competing in the London to Brighton Mini run, along with 2001 other minis, which was a great experience.

WHICH form of motorsport do you love the most?

It has to be Formula One, I know some people perceive it as boring but the huge advancements in technology fascinates me and does filter down to the cars we drive today. I enjoy the tactics, and driving skills involved.

FAVOURITE film about cars or motorsport?

The Italian Job (1969) is an all time classic, Michael Caine is brilliant in this film and with the Mini connection, and it's a film I have a major soft spot for. Much to my wife's annoyance I could probably recite almost the whole script of this film, as I have watched it quite a few times.

FAVOURITE route you've ever driven?

On the public highway, I can't think of any which stand out, other than the Autobahns in Germany. However racing round Thruxton race circuit which is an amazing route/track in a single seater formula Renault with its fast sweeping corners on a circuit is great fun.

Row erupts over changes to park and ride drop offs

A ROW has erupted after it emerged that changes to the town's park and ride system are threatening the recovery of Weymouth Pavilion.

Phil Say has been delighted at early Pavilion success since he took over as manager, but he says changes to the park and ride bus drop-off system are hitting the complex's figures, income and footfall.

The threat has arisen since July 8th which was the last time the park and ride bus service dropped off at Weymouth Pavilion and Marks & Spencer.

A Dorset County Council spokesman said: "The service now terminates at the King's Statue (K8), but still stops at Lennox Street and also continues to serve the pier bandstand, town centre and seafront.

"There are a number of reasons for this change, including the return of the Condor ferry service and major events happening over the summer.

"By stopping at the King's Statue, the park and ride avoids congestion on the seafront and helps reduce traffic. It also helps us make sure the park and ride runs to time and provides an efficient, reliable service. We contacted county councillors in June to inform them of the changes and also put up notices at the Mount Pleasant park and ride site and around Weymouth."

by Harry Walton
hds Walton@yahoo.co.uk

But Mr Say said: "A lot of people using the town are visitors and they now have to walk further to get to us which is madness.

"We are trying to save the Pavilion and the county council is not exactly helping us. We want them to think again not just from our point of view but from the point of view of visitors using the park and ride who want to come to the Pavilion to enjoy our facilities, see our information and find out about our shows.

"It is now much harder for them to do this because the park and ride buses are dropping them off up to half a mile away."

Angry councillor Christine James said: "I am Weymouth and Portland's transport spokesman yet the county council couldn't even be bothered to tell me that these park and ride bus drop-off changes were going to happen never mind consult with me first.

"Not only is the rearranged schedule hitting the Pavilion but other businesses as well such as the harbor ferry taxi and the boat trip operators near the Pavilion who go across to Portland.

"When something this major is done to change the park and ride schedule then surely borough councillors should have been consulted. Just telling county councillors is not good enough.

"Condor told the council it needed better exit flows for its passenger vehicles as part of its return to the resort and it seems that what is good for Condor is fine even if it hurts other businesses.

"Weymouth and Portland even proposed a scheme to accommodate the park and ride bus near the Pavilion to avoid it impeding ferry traffic, but the county council rejected it.

"I will support further talks with the county council to see if we can get them to change their minds and bring back the Pavilion stop provided it does not impede Condor traffic."

Thief snatches iPad from woman's hand

A MAN has snatched a woman's iPad through the window of her car while it was parked in Littlemoor, Weymouth.

The incident happened at around 4.50pm on Thursday, July 25th along Buddleia Close.

Police said the victim, a 53-year-old Weymouth woman, was using her white iPad while sitting in the driver's seat of her parked car with the window open when a young man walked past and snatched the tablet out of her hand.

PC Billy Taylor, of Weymouth Police, said: "The offender ran off in the direction of Dahlia Close.

"I am appealing for anyone who witnessed the incident or observed any suspicious activity in the area at the time to call Dorset Police.

"I also urge anyone who has been offered a white iPad at an unusually low price to get in touch as soon as possible."

The offender has been described as white, aged between 14 and 18, about five feet ten inches tall and of slim build. He was wearing grey jogging bottoms, white trainers and a black hooded top with the hood up and a white peaked cap underneath.

Anyone who saw anything or anyone with information should call Dorset Police in confidence on 101 quoting incident number 25:402.

Gardens among Britain's best

THREE public gardens in Weymouth and Portland are among the very best in Britain.

Weymouth's Greenhill Gardens and Sandsfoot Gardens, along with Easton Gardens on Portland, have all won prestigious Green Flag Awards.

Green Flag Awards are presented by environmental charity Keep Britain Tidy to recognise and reward the best parks, gardens and green spaces across the country.

The three award-winning gardens are all maintained by Weymouth and Portland council.

Management committee chairman Councillor Mike Goodman said: "I am delighted that three of our fabulous gardens have won this prestigious award and been recognised as among the best in the country. Green Flag awards let visitors know that the gardens are beautifully kept and have excellent facilities."

Friends of Greenhill Gardens chairman Barbara Dubben said: "This is absolutely astounding news. I am so pleased that Greenhill has now retained the Green Flag Award for seven years. The gardens just get better and better and the gardeners do a fantastic job, so really well done to them and the council's parks team."

Paul Todd, Green Flag Award Scheme manager from Keep Britain Tidy, said: "A Green Flag Award provides national recognition for the hard work and dedication of all the staff and volunteers who have helped create these fantastic places to enjoy.

"Quality green spaces are absolutely essential to happy, healthy communities. They are fundamental to our quality of life, whether in cities, towns or villages."

Town Green supporters prepare for supreme court battle

SUPPORTERS fighting to retain Town Green status for part of the Markham and Little Francis area in Weymouth are facing a final battle at the Supreme Court on January 15th, 2014.

They will ask the court to overturn previous legal rulings which saw developer Betterment Properties, which owns the land, successfully argue that a previous grant of Town Green status should be withdrawn.

Supporters fear that defeat in London will mean heavy housing development for the "green lung".

Spokesman Gill Taylor said: "We're starting to get the invoices in for the work that is required for this case and have now had some of our pledges come in as cheques.

"We've had a large donation from the Open Spaces Society which continues to give us substantial amounts towards this case. We've also had large donations from the Wyke Protection Society and from a private donor in the Midlands.

"Now we have a date for the Supreme Court hearing we feel that we are now gearing up for the final battle.

"It's been a long haul and we never expected to be here when we started all those years ago.

"We would like to thank all of our wonderful supporters who have enabled us to continue fighting for this well loved piece of land.

"Many people continue to use the Town Green for leisure and recreation and we trust that we will have a successful outcome which will enable residents to continue to do so in the future.

"We are extremely grateful to our legal team including the three barristers, including a QC, who are providing their services free of charge. We do however have costs associated with the case that need to be paid so we are continuing to raise funds to cover these expenses.

"We're hugely grateful for the donations we have had over the years, particularly from the Open Spaces Society and the Wyke Protection Society as well as the small donations which make all the difference to us.

"The surprise one was a significant donation from a visitor from the Midlands who had heard of our campaign.

"If anyone would like to make a donation please contact Sue Liddell, 118, Lanehouse Rocks Road, Weymouth DT4 9HX 01305 767819."

Plans for £85million 'Jurassica' tourist attraction

IAN Hanlon

would be talks with Dorset County Council to keep on-site parking down by "borrowing" Weymouth and Dorchester's park and ride system so the Jurassica experience could actually start in Weymouth at the Mount Pleasant park and ride site. There could also be a possible marine access to the site via East Weares.

He added that the project had many benefits because it would use an existing brownfield site, solar roof panels would generate enough electricity for the entire site and there would be no impact on the profile of Portland because the intention was to make Jurassica "more or less invisible".

Jurassica is soon to become a charity, he said, and it could be built and open by 2019.

Mr Hanlon said Portland had been chosen because it was a central point of the Jurassic coast, had a spectacular location, in situ rock strata displays, was remote yet accessible and would create jobs and money for that part of the Dorset coastline which needed it most. It was proposed to use the old Yeolands quarry, he said, because it was perfect for the proposed design.

He told the meeting that the next stage was to apply for Lottery funding, go through the planning process, secure corporate sponsorship and county council backing, obtain private backing "and build momentum".

He added: "It may go wrong. There is plenty to go wrong, but plenty has gone right so far. This is the first time I have talked to people en masse and I would be very excited to hear what you have to say."

Portland historian Stuart Morris said: "I personally welcome Jurassica. I think something like this is really exciting, but I don't think that park and ride on its own will suffice."

Mr Hanlon said he used to live on Portland, loved the island and didn't want to clog it up, so the intention was to provide "a comfortable, fast transport service tailored to Jurassica".

He added: "We can make it work, but I agree there is work to do." Weymouth and Portland tourism spokesman Councillor Ian Bruce said: "I am very excited about this innovative way of reusing a worked out quarry.

"I am sure that there will be lots of issues to address, but I would be very supportive of introducing a world class attraction to Weymouth and Portland."

New scheme launched to deal with alcohol offences

A NEW scheme has been launched to deal with alcohol-related offences in Dorset.

The Alcohol Diversion Scheme will mean that offenders issued with a Penalty Notice for Disorder (PND) can attend a half day educational course. Provided the individual attends and completes the course the original PND will be cancelled.

The course covers a number of subjects relating to alcohol, including health management, consequences and ways forward for individuals to address their problems.

Courses will cost £40 and every recipient of an alcohol-related PND can apply for the course.

Examples of PND offences include drunk and disorderly, Public Order Act offences and low-level thefts and damage where alcohol is the contributing factor.

The scheme is led by Dorset Police, in partnership with local authorities. Registered charity Druglink will deliver the courses at sites in Weymouth, Poole and Bournemouth.

Acting Inspector Steve Lyne is leading the scheme for Dorset Police. He said: "This is a scheme which has been used in other parts of the country to great effect. The principle behind it is to divert individuals away from trouble at an early stage. It is part of our continued commitment to reduce the number of alcohol-related incidents in our town centres."

"We have had great support from our partners, licensed premises and the public so far and this provides an opportunity to reduce reoffending and therefore further reduce alcohol-related crime and incidents."

Police warn bikers safety comes first

■ POLICE have launched a campaign to persuade motorcyclists to ride safely and always wear appropriate protective kit.

Dorset Police Bikesafe Co-ordinator, PC Chris Smith (pictured above), said: "We've had some fantastic weather for riding lately and it's great to see so many bikers out and about."

"However I cannot stress enough that you should always wear protective clothing - even if you are travelling at low speeds and short distances."

Warmer than average

WEYMOUTH'S July started hot, but its hopes of record sunshine were dashed by heavy rainfall over the last week.

Town weatherman Bob Poots said temperatures reached 25.8 centigrade on July 8th, the warmest July day since 2001, but the heavy burst at the end of the month saw rainfall levels rise to just above average. It brought the annual total past 450mm, nearly 80mm above average.

Sunshine was well above average, only failing to appear three times with 18 days recording over ten hours. The month enjoyed 58 hours more sunshine than average at just over 297 hours and it brought annual sunshine totals up to just under average at 1,165 hours.

Sea fog was present on 31st of July reducing visibility to just 200 metres and thunder and lightning were noted on Sunday 21st at 9.08pm.

Visibility was greatly reduced on the 6th, 12th by mist and on 22nd and 23rd by haze while winds were very light with gusts of just 22 MPH being recorded.

All temperatures were well above average except the sea with the average maximum up 1.4C at 21.6C, the average minimum up 1.4C at 14.4C, the average mean up 1.7C at 18C, but the average sea temperature down 0.1C at 16.5C.

Preston to host market

PRESTON Village Market will be held at St Andrew's Church Rooms on Saturday, August 10th, from 10am-12.30pm.

On sale will be a wide variety of crafts, cakes, savouries, preserves, fresh produce from Wyke Oliver Farm and plants together with delicious refreshments. Entrance is free and donations are welcome.

This time the event is raising funds for Carly Shere-ton in support of her forthcoming trek across the Sahara Desert to raise funds for Joseph Weld Hospice and Weymouth East Scouts who are in need of some new tents.

Events team gets a £20,000 boost

EVENTS and festivals that bring excitement to Weymouth have been given a £20,000 boost by a local business.

Holiday park Haven Littlesea has again agreed to sponsor Weymouth and Portland council's events team.

The money will help the council put on and promote more than 260 events and festivals each year and in return Haven's branding will be included on event leaflets, marketing campaigns and promotional sites.

The council celebrated the deal with its sponsor at the Haven Littlesea Caravan Show.

Littlesea general manager Nick Moran said: "We actively embrace our relationship with the council. We are committed to trying new and innovative schemes to increase awareness of our holiday park and we place a high value on this key partnership as it clearly benefits both parties and the community at large."

"Littlesea Holiday Park, part of the Haven brand, welcomes over 20,000 visitors a year who all contribute to the local economy during their stay. We also employ a team of up to 300 people most of whom are local."

The sponsorship arrangement was also welcomed by Weymouth and Portland leisure and tourism spokesman Councillor Ian Bruce who said: "The council events team takes great pride in organising, supporting and hosting over 260 events and festivals throughout the year."

"This partnership with Haven Littlesea is a great example of a successful local business with a strong national brand investing and benefitting from the many promotional opportunities made available by the Borough's impressive annual events and festivals programme."

The Haven Littlesea Holiday Show will be open now from 10am-6pm at Weymouth Pavilion until August 19th.

Outstanding fruit and veg on show

■ ENTRIES were sharply up when Chickerell held its six annual flower show since the event restarted in 2008.

Organiser Colin Giles said more than 150 exhibits went on show at the Willowbed Hall.

He added: "Children's exhibits were particularly strong, displays of flowers were good and the trays of mixed vegetables and fruit were outstanding."

"Handicrafts also did well and we hope to hold the event again next year."

Community orchard dedicated to Denis

■ DENIS Williams (centre) watches as the orchard is dedicated

WEYMOUTH'S first community fruit orchard has been officially dedicated to a man with an acute lung condition who helped initiate the project.

The service for the Denis Williams Community Orchard at the bottom of Radipole Park Drive was taken by the The Reverend Pip Salmon, Denis's vicar from Emmanuel Church at Southill.

Denis said: "Weymouth and Portland Mayor and Mayoress, Councillor Ray Banham and Councillor Pam Nixon, attended as did members of the Friends of Radipole Park and Gardens and neighbours who live close to the orchard."

The idea is that the community can not only enjoy the orchard but benefit from its fruits such as pear, plum, quince, apple, apricot and cherry as well.

Denis said: "I have been a member of the Friends for about four years and thought it would be a good idea to purchase some equipment for the park that could be put to good use for years to come, in an area I love. Various suggestions were put forward until the idea of a community orchard came up.

"I had been saving my pennies for some considerable number of years and it was decided by the committee with the agreement of Weymouth and Portland Parks department to go ahead and I duly put up £500 and later another £500.

"We must give a very big thank you to Albion Stone for giving us such a wonderful piece of stone all shaped. I'd also like to thank the stonemason who carved the wording on the stone, all other helpers and parks team for their dedication."

Denis in his late 70s needs oxygen all the time and has to take a cylinder everywhere he goes, even in the shower.

Mayor's fund raises £3,200

FORMER Weymouth and Portland Mayor Councillor Margaret Leicester's Fund raised more than £3,200 for two local organisations during 2012-13.

Julia's House and Osprey Leisure Centre have both benefitted from the money.

Cheques were presented to representatives of both organisations, with Julia's House receiving £2,558.54 and Osprey Leisure Centre receiving £646.44.

Mrs Leicester selected both charities for her term in office during 2012-13.

The money was raised through a number of events held during the course of the year, including a raffle and various donations.

She thanked the local community for getting involved and donating to the fund and added: "I am very pleased so much money was raised during my term in office. Both organisations will really benefit from the money."

"I would like to thank all those people who got involved and donated to the fund."

Current Mayor, Councillor Ray Banham, is raising money for his selected charities CLIC Sargent and Weymouth and Portland St John Ambulance. Donations can be made directly to the Civic Office.

Hotel wins top award for breakfast

■ WEYMOUTH'S Esplanade Hotel has a sunny-side-up smile after receiving a prestigious AA award for its top quality breakfasts.

The award was made after an AA hotel inspector made a secret visit to The Esplanade to assess the whole hotel.

Owner Rob Cole said: "He told us he was a businessman looking for property in the area. Then later he suddenly presented his business card with AA stamped on it and we realised he was a hotel inspector."

"I am so proud. We work really hard at the important things such as cleanliness and customer comfort and especially breakfasts."

"This award means that all our work sourcing local ingredients, working with local suppliers and making sure that we use nothing but the best wherever possible has paid off."

Rob (pictured), who runs The Esplanade with his wife, Terri, has only been in the hotel trade for five years during which time they have been voted among the top 25 friendliest landlords in the country.

Spirit of Portland Festival 2013 - Spirit of Portland Festival 2013

Taste of Roman history

■ SUMMER McIntosh (left) and Molly Parr sit on a Roman coffin made from Portland stone

PORTLAND Museum turned the clock back 2,000 years when it staged a Romano-British day.

The event formed part of the Spirit of Portland festival and gave visitors a chance to see how life on the island was under the Romans.

Museum manager Lisa Gravett said: "There was a chance to make Roman honey cake and grind wheat into flour using stones while visitors could even have a go at making clay pots and bead necklaces.

"We decided to hold our Romano-British day because we wanted to join in with the Spirit of Portland festival and show how the Romans influenced the history of the island."

Visitors were also able to learn how to make a mosaic using cubes of stone and even take a paper mosaic home with them."

Picnic for teddys at Victoria Gardens

■ CLARENCE, Marmaduke and Paddington led the way when a teddy bears' picnic was held in Victoria Gardens, Portland.

The event, which formed part of the Spirit of Portland festival, was organised by the Friends of Victoria Gardens. Chairman Robert Grigsby said: "We had music, a treasure hunt, lots of children's games and various stalls including tombola, cakes and a raffle.

"We held the event to raise money for the gardens to help us replace all the railings and put back new ones in Victorian style.

"It was good that the Spirit is giving Portland its own festival and we were happy to be part of it."

■ FLYING the Mini Olympics flag

Mini Olympics

SEVEN events were on offer when iPlay held a Mini Olympics in the Governors' Community Garden on Portland.

The games, which formed part of the Spirit of Portland festival, included basketball, skipping, bat and ball, badminton, football, pogo jumping and running.

Secretary Karen Wiedenbruch said: "We had a lot of interest in the event and everyone taking part had a lot of fun.

"Everything was free and we even had stickers and trophies for our Mini Olympians!"

Bit of a buzz at market

EVERYTHING from honey and free range eggs to apple pies and bread was on offer when the Isle of Portland country market was held at Easton's Community 2000 hall.

The event, which was held as part of the Spirit of Portland festival, also included an opportunity for visitors to sample bread, cakes and other items before they bought them.

Other stalls included ones for clothing, crafts, cards and jewellery.

■ CLAIRE Toon the Haven Littlesea Holiday Park "Green Team" leader and After Sales Manager, presented volunteers of Weymouth lifeboat with a cheque for £900, which was raised through proceeds of a "green weekend".

Every year every Haven Holiday Park raises money for charity with a green weekend. The weekend at Littlesea involved a craft market, farmers market, wildlife walk, BBQ, raffle and other events.

This is the second year that Littlesea has raised funds for the RNLI. The charity was chosen after Claire saw the effort that the volunteer crews of Weymouth lifeboat put into the search for the missing crew of the Purbeck Isle, which sank last year with the loss of three lives.

Art group hold annual exhibition

WEYMOUTH Art Group is staging its annual exhibition at Weymouth Library from August 19th-24th.

The group is based in Radipole and Southill Community Centre and meets every Tuesday from 9am-noon from September to the end of May with an informal extension to the end of July.

It also has a summer programme in August of outside painting sessions in and around Weymouth.

Group fees are £15 per year September to September and £1 entrance fee each session attended. All levels, beginners to advanced, are welcome.

There are now more than 70 members of mixed ability from commissioned artists to beginners who come together in a very informal and friendly atmosphere.

There is a coffee break mid-morning when the latest completed work is displayed. A varied programme is there to follow if desired, but many members choose to do their own thing.

Thousands enjoy lifeboat display

WEYMOUTH'S Nothe Gardens were packed with several thousand people who applauded as local lifeboats and the rescue helicopter staged an exercise in aid of RNLI funds.

Spectators, who also enjoyed a hog roast and bar, watched as a casualty was lowered down the main Nothe Fort wall and taken to Newton's Cove where the inshore lifeboat, which had already rescued people from a liferaft, ferried the casualties out to the main all-weather lifeboat.

Organiser Tony Beeson said: "The search and rescue helicopter from Portland then took part in a synchronised winch up of the casualties from the lifeboat.

"Those at the evening were also able to enjoy various stalls and the music of Speedway Snails.

"We even had some racing out in the Cove courtesy of Weymouth Gig Rowing Club.

"It costs nearly £1,000 every day to run the whole Weymouth Lifeboat Station operation, so events such as

■ CROWDS watch as a casualty is winched from lifeboat to helicopter

this are vital for our fundraising because we are a charity and get no funding from the Government.

"Fortunately the weather tonight was on our side and we did really well, so we would like to thank everyone who turned up to make the night such a success."

Hospice nurse to run first marathon

ONE of Dorset charity Weldmar's community nurses is taking on her first marathon.

Karen Samuel, who is based in Trimar Hospice in Weymouth, will be running her first marathon on Sunday, October 6th, as part of the Bournemouth Marathon Festival.

She has been working for Weldmar for more than five years, initially in the in-patient unit, Joseph Weld Hospice, and now as a community nurse supporting patients and their relatives in their own home.

Karen said: "I love this type of nursing, being able to support people through a very difficult time in their lives."

"Recently, when talking with one of my patients, we discussed running and the patient said that they had always regretted never running a marathon as this was their one dream. It made me think that you have to live for today.

"I decided that there would rarely be a good time to train, so that I would just go for it. The next day I found the marathon at Bournemouth and entered."

Karen is now training under the watchful eye of Andy Sloan as well as getting nutrition advice in preparation for race day.

She said: "I am running three to four times a week as well as undertaking some circuit training to complement my running. The runs vary in length and intensity and certainly test my physical capabilities as well as being mentally challenging.

"I am raising money at the same time, and need to raise a minimum of £500. I would really like to raise at least £1,000 to enable Weldmar to continue with their valuable work. As a nurse I see what a difference the charity makes to local people."

Karen can be sponsored online at www.justgiving.com/run-kazzsam-run or sponsorship can be taken into Trimar Hospice in Weymouth, where there are sponsorship forms.

Karen said: "Every donation helps, no matter how small, so please help me raise money for this very worthy cause."

Going back in time at fort

WEYMOUTH'S Nothe Fort is preparing for some big bangs to mark their traditional Victorian Fayre on August 10th-11th from 10.30am-4.30pm.

The Fort Artillery will be firing both cannons as well as demonstrating their bugle and drumming skills.

There will also be many traditional side shows and stalls including hoopla, a coconut shy and stocks.

The Victorian School Room will be open for visitors to try their hand at adding up "old" money and writing with an ink pen and there will also be a quiz with clues around the fort.

There are also prizes for all age groups for those who come dressed in clothes of the past and enter into the Victorian spirit with fancy dress competitions and the best dressed Victorian family.

One of the popular highlights of last year's fayre was the maypole and this will be set up again so people can join in the dancing and fun.

This year's event will feature the fort's Dorset Knob throwing competition. Children can also try fossil painting and decorating a kite while their parents browse various craft and food stalls.

Big plans for fun day

PLANS for the third "3Zone Fantastic Family Fun Day" at Littlemoor, Weymouth, on Saturday, August 17th, are going well and the event promises to be even bigger and better than usual.

The fun day is being held at the Top Club Field on Louviers Road, and will run from noon-4pm. Entry is free and there will be lots of entertainment for all the family.

The bucking bronco is back again by popular demand as are the bungee run, obstacle course, bouncy castle, miniature steam train, trampolines, mini waltzers and roundabout while people can have fun cooking with Cookery Tony and enjoy watching the magic shows or having their face painted.

Air 107.2 FM will attend and keep everyone up to date with what is going on while the Moor Voices community choir will be singing during the afternoon and there will be a display by the 2nd Edition Portland Majorettes. Refreshments will also be on sale.

New for this year is Simon Chainey with a brilliant fire act while there will also be an emergency services mini 999 day.

Another new attraction is a photography competition with classes for adults and children. The overall adult winner will take home £50 kindly donated by www.love-weymouth.co.uk. There will be runner-up prizes and Britannia Parking is kindly donating the prizes for the children's competition.

There will also be the Market Street table-top market and pitches are available for £5, but places are limited so people need to book now. Any charities are welcome to have a stall free of charge but will still need to book.

For details of the photography competition or to book a table, please call Jan Hinton on 01305 834126.

The fun day has been organised by 3Zone Neighbourhood Panel, supported by Synergy Housing.

AS I SEE IT ... by Geoff Treleven

First or last resort

WHEN folk are facing huge problems and have tried all they know without success, they often say that all they can do now is to pray, thinking it is their only remaining option – and it probably is.

They may have been praying all the time, but still say it is all that is left.

When trouble comes as it often does, surely it must be better to pray straight away. In other words, prayer becomes the first resort and certainly not the last.

Speaking from personal experience, we had an unexpected medical report at the end of a hospital investigation a few years ago that was potentially serious. We walked to our parked car in a state of shock, not knowing how this would turn out. Before we drove home we prayed, committing the whole situation to the Lord.

What happened next is a long story with God giving us much assurance. We did also take the medical advice and treatment prescribed and tried to do all the right things. We continued to pray too and now, much later, we are very thankful for a healthy result.

Our advice would be that you always go to God first and not last.

Chinese treasures go under the hammer

SOUGHT after Chinese pottery and woodwork are the star attractions at one of Weymouth's biggest auctions for years.

The event at Brewers Quay starts tomorrow (August 9th) at 10.30am and includes an 18th century carved wooden Chinese temple dog, which is expected to fetch more than £500, and an Alan Wallwork studio pottery piece, which is expected to go for more than £1,000.

Also included are a giant pair of modern Chinese vases displaying the words of 10th century emperor Fan Zhongyan.

Auction co-director Paul Cartlidge said: "We have so many items that both our auction rooms are full, so it will be one of the biggest events of its type that Weymouth has seen for years."

Other items of interest

include a 16th century rat trap, a quantity of Russian medals and three highly unusual 1950s water-colours depicting a pilgrimage from London to Canterbury.

This week also saw a new indoor market start on the first floor of Brewers Quay.

It offered Weymouth

market traders tables in a large open area where they sold jewellery, bric-a-brac, records and locally produced food including cheese and sausages while there was also space for an artistic studio.

Paul said: "This market will now operate every day of the year."

"We believe this will increase our footfall here even further and you'll have to go a long way to find another indoor market with a life-size model of Dr Who's Tardis in it!"

Surgeries to offer benefits advice

SURGERIES to provide benefits advice and to help older people will be held at Weymouth Community Fire Station, Radipole Lane, from 9.30am-11.30am on the second Tuesday of each month and will be by appointment only for Dorset residents only.

They are being provided thanks to Age UK Dorchester and Dorset County Council's Welfare Benefits Team which are working together to provide the service.

The next surgery will be held on Tuesday, August 13th.

To make an appointment, phone 01305 269444.

Who painted a house like this?

■ DOES anyone recognise this painting of the Tudor House in Weymouth?

Custodian Eileen O'Brian believes that it is possibly by Colin Dashwood from February 19th, 1922.

She said: "Can anyone confirm this or do they know any more about the artist?"

"If anyone has an interest in local history in general and would like to volunteer to be a receptionist or guide at Tudor House, particularly at the weekends, we would love to hear from them."

Anyone who has information about the painting or who would like to be a volunteer should contact 01305 772230.

Weymouth Matters

A personal View by HARRY WALTON

Summer's here and so are wasps

WASPS are making an unwelcome appearance at last after experts said they were decimated by last year's rain, a cold winter and more rain this spring.

Inevitably my first contact with them involved a wasp's attempt to share my rather nice apple cake with me.

I couldn't eject it via the door so I tried to shovel it out of a window instead or my son did, showing commendable restraint after one stung him the day before when it flew into his hand as he was out on a bike ride.

Yes, we've all had a miserable time of it apart from a couple of heatwave weeks this year, but we all forget too quickly some of the downsides of a sunny summer and rampant wasps is definitely one of them and something few people want anything to do with.

If weather experts are right and we have a few more years of poor weather to go before we get our summers back then we'll be all right with wasps for a while, but if summer comes back sooner then so will the wasps.

You've been warned.

Keeping calm in an emergency

THERE is an old saying about a crisis bringing out the best in people...unless you happen to be a motorist in Weymouth.

A recent ambulance emergency forced staff to park their vehicle complete with blue flashing lights on Lanehouse Rocks Road opposite the junction with Benville Road.

Every motorist in the entire country knows emergency vehicles have priority and they should certainly know that staff would not park in such an awkward position were it not for a very good medical reason.

But what unfolded next was straight out of some of the more unpleasant annals of human behaviour.

Because of the location of the ambulance, traffic coming north to south towards Wyke and Portland had the clear lane and those drivers trying to go north towards the Granby Industrial Estate or east towards Radipole found themselves baulked by the ambulance.

They had to wait for a gap in oncoming traffic heading south and pretty soon some of them got fed up with waiting.

They simply lost their temper and pulled out round the ambulance, inevitably meeting oncoming traffic with the equally inevitable frank exchange of views some of which were very frank.

One clash saw a southbound driver forced on to the pavement by a furious northbound driver who had refused to wait any longer and was trying to bull his way past the ambulance. The "f" word was much in evidence as he gave the luckless southbound driver a mouthful and it wasn't the only exchange.

There was a lot of arm waving, head holding and gesturing in the time the incident was visible to me and, if police had been there, then I'm sure they'd have had words with a number of drivers.

And all this because ambulance staff were trying to help someone who was hurt or ill and drivers couldn't exercise patience. Not much hope for us is there?

Councillors are heckled by a gull

POLITICS is strictly for the birds, or so it appeared at a recent council committee meeting in Weymouth.

It was a sultry day and the windows were duly opened for people to cool off, but this caused a few problems when people began to speak.

A gull on the flat roof outside Committee Room No 1 must have felt human voices were a threat to its territory, so it belted out a series of raucous calls which totally drowned out what the speaker was trying to say and what councillors were trying to hear.

Even closing the nearest window didn't do much good as the gull just cranked it up a bit.

Eventually the bird felt it had shouted its corner enough and fell silent, ruffling its feathers and glaring into the room.

Taking everything plus the kitchen sink to the beach

DONKEYS have historically been hailed as a beast of burden, so it was ironic that two different beasts of burden went on display near where the beach donkeys were standing on Weymouth Sands.

The first was a man sporting a white T-shirt, blue shorts, black socks and trainers with a big yellow stripe who appeared to be melting.

There was some sun but it was pleasant because a breeze took the edge off temperatures, so why was he in such distress?

Well, it may have been because he was carrying a windbreak, two folding chairs, a cool box, three bags of food or other stuff for the beach, various items of clothing and an inflatable ring.

And just to show it works the other way as well, further along the Esplanade was a woman with three children who was carrying an armful of towels, various bags, a cool box, two shrimping nets and, most impressive of all, one of those fold-up picnic tables.

With human capacity like this no wonder donkeys are reduced to giving rides on the beach!

Have your say on housing strategy

PEOPLE can have their say on a new joint housing strategy for West Dorset, Weymouth and Portland.

The strategy will set out how both West Dorset District Council and Weymouth and Portland Borough Council deal with a range of housing issues.

These include preventing and dealing with homelessness, building affordable homes, improving standards in the private rented sector, promoting energy efficiency in homes and supporting vulnerable people with housing issues.

Consultation on the plan has just started, will last eight weeks and includes several drop-in sessions for the public to find out more, ask questions and complete consultation forms

These include Monday, September 16th, at Mountfield, Bridport, from 3pm-7 pm; Monday, September 23rd, at South Walks House, Dorchester, from 3pm-7pm; and Thursday, September 26th at the council of-

by Harry Walton
hdswalton@yahoo.co.uk

ices on North Quay, Weymouth, from 3pm-7pm.

Weymouth and Portland housing spokesman Councillor Ray Nowak said: "We have seen major changes to the housing sector over recent years from changes to social housing policy to major reviews of the planning system.

"The housing review will therefore help us to come up with new and innovative approaches to deal with these issues and to address the growing levels and ranges of housing need in the area."

West Dorset council leader Councillor Robert Gould said: "The district council is working alongside Weymouth and Portland council to come up with a joint strategy that will set out the housing vision for both authorities for the next five years.

"It is very important people get involved and have their say so the public can help shape the strategy and the future of housing in their area."

Councillors from both councils will consider the draft proposals in September and October after the public consultation. The strategy could be adopted as soon as November 2013.

For more information about the housing strategy and to fill out the consultation form online visit www.dorsetforyou.com/housing-strategy-2013/weymouth-portland-and-west-dorset

Paper copies of the consultation form are available on request from West Dorset District Council offices at South Walks House, Dorchester and Weymouth and Portland Borough Council offices at North Quay, Weymouth.

ViewLetters There will be no end

COUNCIL Leader Gould said recently of the Stratton House sale that – while missing out by a full £2million from the pre-election-promised revenue – "This marks the end of the project to relocate West Dorset District Council"

To borrow the words of a famous politician from yesterday: "No, No, No!"

True, the new offices stand in Charles Street And WDDC have sold Stratton House for just 43 per cent of the pre-election promised figure...by definition their original promise was hugely inflated, highly misleading.

Such massive misjudgments, including the extra unbudgeted £1.6million for moving a church off Charles St North car-park, and the blotting-out of around 400,000 x 1-hour parking slots p.a. by placing council offices on Charles St South car-park, are serious...but are nothing compared with the fundamental breakdown of trust between council and electorate. The council's leaders never ensured councilors, retailers and public received, appreciated and could discuss the full facts before the fateful decision was taken.

They failed to mention the "three years and one month" delay for any replacement parking for Charles St if/when phase two had gone ahead...not in any council agenda, council minutes, or council publication to all residents – "Community Link". Even the Director of Dorchester's BID didn't know. Had it been fully known the present council offices would surely never have been forced through.

Without proper democracy there can never be any "marking of the end of the project". These offices will do a job as offices, but will do a far greater job as a memorial/warning to the breakdown of democratic trust between council and electorate. Or would any 2011 Executive member at last be prepared to debate this issue with me publicly, and prove us wrong?

DORSET County Hospital's Chief Executive Jean O'Callaghan and Medical Director Paul Lear have received a cheque for £35,000 from the Dorset Kidney Fund.

Members of the charity held a number of events to raise the money – including a race night and a dance.

Said Jean O'Callaghan: "I cannot thank enough every member of the Dorset Kidney Fund, each of whom has worked so hard to raise this incredible amount of money. The funding will help enormously with providing the equipment required for home haemodialysis of our renal patients."

Michelle Hague

Hypnotherapy can help you improve sleep & can impact on your health

ACCORDING to recent medical research, regular fulfilling sleep can reduce the risk of cardiovascular disease (CVD) and primary hypertension in the same way that exercise, healthy diet and quitting smoking can.

A recent study published in the European Journal of Preventive Cardiology found that people who enjoy a relaxing night's sleep can significantly reduce their chances of being affected by cardiovascular disease. If this is combined with a healthy lifestyle, results showed that people have a 57 per cent lower risk of CVD both fatal and non fatal and are 67 per cent less likely to die from the illness.

In response to these latest findings Michelle Hague a professional Clinical Hypnotherapist and International lecturer with The London College of Clinical Hypnosis is focusing her attention on sleep disorders and primary hypertension and has decided to highlight the effectiveness of clinical hypnotherapy and mindfulness to help those suffering with sleep disorders.

The London College of Clinical Hypnosis in partnership with The University of West London train all their therapists to assist individuals presenting with sleep disorders and help them make those important life style changes, that can so seriously affect their health. The British Society of Clinical Hypnosis, which is made up of qualified and professional hypnotists, supports all its members who can help clients to learn techniques to help themselves relax and fall to sleep more easily.

The Mariners Beautician

New Beauty Room at The Mariners Hotel

WHILST enjoying some time off last week I was treated to a pampering session at the new beauty salon at the Mariners Hotel in Lyme Regis.

The new salon is run by fully trained and qualified beautician Sophie Turton, who has worked at the hotel in other roles for several years.

The Mariners have set up a relaxing room at the front of the hotel, where you can escape the hustle and bustle of the peak season in Lyme.

I was given a French manicure, with my nails filed, buffed and polished to perfection. Sophie uses the best products available and took her time to intricately paint my nails, with a range of colours and nail art designs on offer.

A French manicure costs £20, although treatments start at £12.50 for a mini manicure.

Other treatments on offer include pedicures, massage, facials, waxing and eye treatments. Sophie also hopes to soon become qualified in gel nails and spray tanning.

Traditional Acupuncture

Acupuncture can improve & maintain health and energy & enhance a sense of well-being

ACCORDING to traditional Chinese philosophy, our health is dependent on the body's motivating energy (qi) moving in a smooth and balanced way through a series of channels beneath the skin.

Acupuncture can affect the quality of qi, your body's vital energy, by the insertion of very fine needles into specific points along these channels. This stimulates the body's healing response and restores natural balance. Treatment is aimed at the root cause of your condition as well as your main symptoms. This approach helps with resolving your problem and enhancing your feeling of well-being. You may notice other niggling problems resolve as your main health complaint improves.

The type of conditions that I mostly see in my clinics include the following: arthritis, back pain and sciatica, poor circulation, low energy levels, hormonal/menopausal symptoms, pregnancy management, fertility problems, weight management, and addictions such as smoking. However, you don't have to be ill in the conventional sense to benefit from acupuncture, sometimes people come to see me because they are feeling low, unwell in themselves, or maybe not sleeping as well as they would like to.

Professional Acupuncturists spend at least 3 years training at degree level to become an Acupuncturist. We are then entitled to join the British Acupuncture Council and to use the letters Lic.Ac., B.Ac.C after our names. We also have public liability and professional indemnity insurance. Many of us have also studied at post-graduate level and are constantly updating our skills and experience.

So, why not give me a ring and see if I can help.

Police pledge to improve non-emergency service

DORSET Police will improve its 101 non-emergency call system after concerns from members of the public.

New operators will be recruited and the technology upgraded following discussions between Chief Constable Debbie Simpson and Dorset's Police and Crime Commissioner, Martyn Underhill.

The force has recently encountered difficulties answering non-emergency calls promptly due to delays in new recruits starting and the roll-out of new technology.

Chief Constable Debbie Simpson said: "It is vital, as we move into the busy summer holiday period, that we strengthen our plans to address these difficulties."

"Both the Police and Crime Commissioner and myself are keen to ensure that we respond to public concern and we will keep the public updated on progress over the next few weeks."

Police and Crime Commissioner, Martyn Underhill, said: "The public have, rightly, been vocal surrounding this crucial 101 non-emergency service and I have asked the Chief Constable to step up plans for service improvement."

"I am pleased that the force has announced its commitment to improving contact with our communities."

The force is also reminding members of the public to consider ways of making a non-emergency call to improve the chances of enquiries being dealt with swiftly and efficiently.

These include reporting crime at the time it happens, the 101 service is in operation around the clock, or using the online service via at www.dorset.police.uk.

Dorset Police say some people do also call them in error over issues like noise pollution or parking which is a local council function.

Changes to legislation could put wildlife at risk

CHANGES to European legislation could put Dorset's wildlife and landscape at risk – according to the county's Wildlife Trust.

The trust believes that changes to the Common Agricultural Policy (CAP) reform could unravel 20 years of wildlife-enriching work undertaken by farmers and landowners and may have a negative impact on the wildlife that thrives in "corridors" of agriculturally managed ecosystems.

Debbie Watkins, manager of the West Dorset Living Landscape team at Dorset Wildlife Trust, claims that CAP reform could unravel 20 years of wildlife-enriching work undertaken by farmers and landowners and may have a negative impact on the wildlife that thrives in "corridors" of agriculturally managed ecosystems.

"Dorset Wildlife Trust is trying to influence new agri-environmental, greening, and rural development plans in a bid to secure the best deal for biodiversity and the environment from very constrained resources."

"There's still a lot more negotiation to come and we will continue to engage at this level for a while longer, for the benefit of Dorset wildlife."

She says that measures that once stood to benefit European wildlife could be diluted in a series of possible exemptions following talks between the EU commission, MEPs and agricultural ministers.

The trust says that Dorset is a county rich in Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty (40 per cent of the county is an AONB) with 85 per cent of this land under active agricultural management. Under the latest outcomes of the Common Agricultural Policy (CAP) reform, Dorset's idyllic countryside, with its vast tracts of hedgerows, wild meadows and grasslands vital to the prosperity of local, national and internationally important flora and fauna, could be at risk.

The principle that 30 per cent of direct payments on the CAP should be focused on the environment has been established, but is being undermined by compromises. The trust says that, for example, the area farmers are now required to identify for nature (Ecological Focus Areas or EFAs) will fall from seven per cent to five per cent - a measure only applicable to a percentage of arable farms over 15 hectares.

EFAs are often placed in arable field margins, these hotspots for biodiversity are prevalent large areas of the county, such as the limestone soils of the Purbecks, and act as a much needed sanctuary for some of the 1,064 farmland species identified in the State of Nature Report of which 60 per cent have decreased and 34 per cent have decreased strongly.

The trust says that alongside field margins, hedgerows might soon be credited as EFAs by farmers looking to qualify for CAP 'greening' payments.

With a reduction in the percentage of land needed to qualify for this greening payment, hedges, which act as vital wildlife corridors, are under threat from continuing their function as a means of protecting and dispersing diverse species in an otherwise fractured landscape.

Paul Wilkinson, Head of Living Landscape for The Wildlife Trusts, said: "Because of the flexibility that will be afforded to Member States in the way they deliver greening measures, there is still an opportunity for the UK to adopt an approach that is more robust than the extremely disappointing basic measures agreed."

"We recognise Secretary of State Owen Paterson's stated commitment to improve the natural environment and call on him to ensure that the value for nature of Ecological Focus Areas and the other greening measures is maximised and to commit to supporting strategic planning of these areas across the farmed landscape. We need to see these areas linked in a coherent way to well-funded new agri-environment schemes."

Medics are universally challenged at quiz night

MEMBERS of Dorset County Hospital's respiratory department raised almost £2,000 from a quiz night called "Universally Challenged" in aid of Weldmar and the Friends of Dorset County Hospital.

A number of teams from the trust pitted their wits against each other with the medics emerging victorious.

Almost £2,000 was raised from the evening and this was split between the two charities.

Pictured are members of the respiratory team at Dorset County Hospital, Director of Nursing Alison Tong and representatives from Weldmar and the Friends of DCH.

Dorset photographers host exhibition

DORSET Independent Photographers are combining the best in traditional darkroom skills with the latest in digital technology for their annual exhibition which opens in Dorchester's Borough Gardens House for a week from August 19th.

by Trevor Bevins
trevorbevins@gmail.com

This year's show includes images from as far afield as Iceland and as close to home as a Dorset kitchen table, taken on everything from a plate camera to a smart phone.

The show, sponsored by Nantes Solicitors, features a range of work in differing styles. Among them will be original prints by Robin Mills, an Associate of the Royal Photographic Society. He now uses digital technology to make his pictures, but his background is rooted firmly in the traditional darkroom.

He joins seven other photographers who tackle subjects ranging from landscape and abstract to still life and documentary in both colour and monochrome. The group has been staging exhibitions and meeting informally to discuss work since the 1980s.

Dorchester-based Tim Edwards is a founder member of the group. For more than 25 years Tim used his keen eye for detail and passion for fine black and white prints to produce images from large format cameras. When health problems forced him to give up darkroom work, he brought the same passion to his digital colour work, responding to the rich colours and patterns of decaying urban structures to produce his trademark abstract photographs.

With his monochrome landscapes produced in the darkroom using negatives from medium and large format cameras, Malcolm Macnaughtan's focus remains on traditional photographic craft. His recent decision to work part-time has given him more freedom to explore picture possibilities close to his Dorchester home.

In complete contrast, Barbara Jenkins is exploring the creative possibilities of her smart phone to pursue her love of watery imagery. She embarks on her photographic missions with an open mind and no fixed agenda, but finds herself repeatedly drawn to water and reflections, inspired by Waterlog, Roger Deakin's classic about wild swimming.

Margaret Homan-Berry is bringing a documentary dimension to the show. Margaret, who last year was awarded an ARPS for her exquisite flower images, is this year showing photographs from her long-term project to chart the transformation of Dorchester's Eldridge Pope brewery site into an entertainment and residential complex.

Andy White, who lives near Bridport, enjoys producing photographs in extreme weather and light conditions. Earlier this year he visited Iceland where his passion for the surreal in everyday life has created images of stark, graphic man-made structures and lines set against the arctic wastes.

Ian Chapman, another founder member of the group, and John Tilsley from Martinstown both aim to pursue traditional darkroom practice alongside digital work.

John has rediscovered his love of photographing people, finding his subjects on heritage steam railways, in Paris and at the New Forest pony sales. Landscape is also a passion and the snow and floods of last winter produced a different slant on the Somerset Levels, Dartmoor and the North Norfolk coast.

Ian's images this year take the viewer on a journey from Exmoor to Northumberland via Suffolk and the Isle of Wight. Closer to home he has been celebrating the beauty of transient light on simple domestic objects.

The exhibition is open from Monday, August 19th until Monday, August 26th from 10am to 5pm.

Police summer drink drive campaign sees 101 arrests

THE summer drink drive campaign has concluded in Dorset – with 101 drivers arrested.

Drivers involved in road traffic collisions were automatically breath tested during the campaign – which ran in tandem with the national drink drive campaign between June 1st and 30th.

Of those arrested, 22 came after road traffic collisions.

Additional checks were carried out throughout the county, including early morning checks undertaken by both marked and unmarked police patrols – with 707 breath tests administered in total.

Dorset Police Traffic Inspector, Matt Butler, said: "Although the summer campaign is over for another year, we will continue to target those who put their lives and others at risk by drink driving.

"More than 20 per cent of arrests came after collisions which shows how dangerous drink driving is.

"There is no safe limit, so anytime that you are going out for a drink you need to plan how to get home without driving yourself.

"I'd like to thank the public for their support and would continue to urge people to call police if they suspect someone is drink driving."

Drink drivers should be reported by calling police on 101. When a crime is in progress or life is at risk, dial 999.

HEADLINERS ANNOUNCED FOR BRIDPORT'S BIGGEST MUSIC FESTIVAL

Sketchy and No Country For Old Men to perform at Event 4

ORGANISERS of the 'EVENT 4' Charity Music Festival which is to be held over two days this weekend (August 10th and 11th) at Bradpole, have just released the names of the two bands that will headline the occasion on Saturday and Sunday.

'EVENT 4', now in it's fourth year, was the brainchild of Fel Moore. The local music festival which enjoyed success during it's formative years took a twist when Fel teamed up with local fundraiser and musician Chris Deacon. With the abundance of musical talent at their disposal, combined with the unique Bridport attitude toward charitable causes, they have put together an array of musical entertainment featuring well known and established artists of almost every genre whilst providing a platform for young and upcoming musicians who will also be performing.

EVENT 4, Bridport's largest Music Festival, is now accepted as the lead in to the Bridport Carnival Program, and presents in excess of 70 musicians in 26 acts with each day concluding with a headline act. This year recording artists Sketchy will headline Saturday. The group plays a fusion of contemporary and Indie Rock. Their repertoire has seen them appearing country wide in a variety of concerts and festivals.

No Country For Old Men will headline Sunday. They are one of Bridport's well established musical gems. Their gritty heavy Country sound is sure to provide a fitting finale to the weekend.

Organisers are delighted with the response from the musicians who are supporting the EVENT 4 and thank them in anticipation of a successful weekend.

Edinburgh Fringe hit comes to Dorset

Ewan Wardrop brings Formby to three local venues

FOLLOWING a successful tour last year, Ewan Wardrop's Formby returns for a 23 venue national tour this year. 'Formby' charts George Formby's rise from awkward stable boy to one of Britain's biggest stars. In a one-man performance Ewan Wardrop plays the role of Formby, as well as other the key characters involved in this slice of his life.

Formby is written by Ewan Wardrop and co-devised and directed by Co-Artistic Director of Salida Productions Ed Hughes. It is not only a celebration of one of Britain's greatest performers, but a funny, touching and thoughtful look at the life of an essentially ordinary man with an extraordinary talent.

The production features many of George Formby's classic hits brilliantly recreated by Wardrop on the ukulele, including Blackpool Rock, Leaning On a Lamp-Post, When I'm Cleaning Windows, TT Races, Mr Wu and many more.

Ewan Wardrop is an actor, dancer and musical comedian, appearing regularly on the comedy circuit as well as on stage and on screen. He initially trained as a dancer and was a principal performer with Matthew Bourne's company Adventures in Motion Pictures. He played leading roles in Swan Lake, Nutcracker! and The CarMan. For Play Without Words, Ewan was part of the original cast, for which Bourne won an Olivier Award for Best Choreography in 2003.

As an actor recent credits include Enron in the West End, Headlong Theatre's award winning play directed by Rupert Goold, Terence Rattigan's The Deep Blue Sea and Rattigan's Nijinsky at the Chichester Festival Theatre directed by Philip Franks and in the films Mr.Happy directed by Eugene Magee and Waiting For Sunrise directed by Gary Morecambe. He has also worked with companies including Complicity, the Royal Shakespeare Company and award winning comedy acapella group Barbershop Opera.

For the Edinburgh Fringe 2012, Ewan wrote and starred in a one man play entitled Formby about the life of the comedian and ukulele player George Formby. While at the festival, Ewan was invited to play on several other shows including Nicholas Parsons' Happy Hour and Comedian and 8 out of 10 Cat's Team Captain Jon Richardson's sell-out show at Assembly Hall.

Salida Productions are Ed Hughes, Michael Vale and Andrea Pelaez with Sir Kenneth Branagh as their patron. Formed in 2009, their first production was Romeo and Juliet with Astillero Tango Orchestra a co-production between Salida and the Mercury Theatre Colchester. The production was awarded an Unesco High Achievement Award.

Formby comes to Dorchester Arts Centre on Friday, August 9th at 8pm (tickets £12/£10 from the box office 01305 266926 or www.dorchesterarts.org.uk), Bridport Arts Centre on Saturday, August 10th at 8pm (tickets £12/£11 from the box office on 01308 424204 or www.bridport-arts.com), and the Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis on Sunday, August 11th at 7.30pm (tickets £12/£10 from the box office on 01297 442138 or www.marinetheatre.com - a TheatreFriends discount is available).

ENERGISE

Stay fit and healthy in West Dorset

Over a twelve week period Energise will track the progress of Rob's personal fitness training at Bridport Leisure Centre.

Rob - Week 9

IN week 9 we decided to introduce high intensity interval training into Rob's workout, we did this by including spinning into his weekly routine. Spinning is a studio cycling workout and is one of the most intense interval sessions available! One of the best things about Spinning is that it is suitable for all levels and abilities. The rider is able to adjust and tailor their own workout while enjoying the benefits of motivation from an Instructor!

The classes are 45 minutes long, so you're in and out within an hour and due to the fact that it is such a high intensity workout you'll agree 45 minutes is enough to break into a sweat.

A couple of Spinning classes a week will guarantee results in terms of fat loss and increases to leg strength as well as a massive cardio vascular benefit. Spinning is recommended to anyone training for a marathon or shorter run, with a weight loss goal, or just wanting to quickly build up to a good level of fitness.

Trainer Tip

WHEN we work our muscles and push them hard, the body reacts to rebuild them stronger than before. In order to advance and build up our muscles we must push them beyond their 'comfort zone'. The body adapts, increasing your fitness and strength. This rebuilding and healing process requires a lot of energy, therefore, after a big workout such as a Kettlebell session or a Spinning session our body can be working harder than usual for a couple of days, burning more calories as it refuels and repairs. This is called an after burn and increases your metabolic rate.

Try helping your body to repair faster by increasing your protein intake after a high intensity interval programme like Spinning!

The Joliet Blues Band are on a mission

In 1980 Joliet Jake Blues was released from prison after serving a three year prison term for armed robbery. Immediately he and his brother Elwood embarked on a mission to put the old Blues Brothers band back together. Everyone remembers that explosive performance at The Palace Hotel Ballroom where a sellout, congenial crowd was joined by hostile police officers and rival band 'The Good Ol' Boys'. Jake and Elwood were sensational, but sadly their days of freedom were numbered. The Justice Department eventually caught up with them, throwing them in jail for a multitude of 'minor' misdemeanours.

Today the Joliet Blues Band, featuring the talents of award-winning actors Dave Ratty and Iain Barton are on a mission to bring the best loved songs from The Blues Brothers' repertoire to theatres across the country. Supported by the voices of The Mighty BeeVees and a fabulous 7 piece blues and soul band, they reignite those old favourites that featured in both Blues Brothers' films and concerts including of course; Shake A Tailfeather, Sweet Home Chicago, Everybody Needs Somebody To Love, Gimme Some Lovin, Peter Gunn and Soul Man.

Those that are already fans of this music will love the authenticity, those that have never heard it before will be in for an experience that will blow their mind.

This high energy 11 piece show band have wowed audiences across the UK with their rip-roaring sell out two hour show "Shake a Tail Feather", that contains all your favourite songs that were made famous by the Blues Brothers.

The Band consists of: Dave "Ramblin Blues" Ratty (Lead Vocals), Iain "Shakin' Blues Harp" Barton (Harmonica and Vocals), Bex "Bee" Arthurs and Verity "Vee" Smith and Bass Guitar) and Ben "Reet" Pettit (Lead Guitar)...

So don your ray bans and fedora... and join the mission!

The Joliet Blues Band play at The Gateway, Seaton Town Hall on Saturday, August 17th, with doors opening at 7.30pm. For more details or to book tickets call 01297 625699, visit the website www.seaton-gateway.co.uk, or purchase tickets from Animal Botanical (Seaton).

Clara Sanabras at Jazz Café

ANGLO-SPANISH songstress Clara Sanabras and maverick producer and composer Harvey Brough (band leader of Harvey & the Wallbangers) will be performing songs from their new album at the Bridport Arts Centre Jazz Café on Friday, August 9th.

Clara Sanabras creates an unmistakable bluesy sound with a continental urban twist - her adventurous melodies taking unexpected turns as her English lyrics break into various languages, while she accompanies herself on an array of exotic instruments. Acclaimed for her collaborations with Natacha Atlas, Django Bates, Luke Concannon (Nizlopi), The Royal Philharmonic Orchestra, Clara's past lives include appearing in "The Merchant of Venice" with Al Pacino and working with the forefather of electronica Karlheinz Stockhausen.

Clara Sanabras has an unmistakable sound and tells universal stories. A musical magpie, she brings her virtuosic voice and multi-instrumentalism to tales of love lost and homes flown in the new CD El Vol Dispers - Scattered Flight. After the success of her critically-acclaimed albums, film score credits and world tours, Sanabras returns to her roots with an elegy to the experience of exile, told in Spanish, Catalan and English. A collection of original songs recorded with her award-winning band, featuring Spanish folk legend Eliseo Parra, the acclaimed Elysian Quartet and Harvey Brough and tinged with flavours of folk, flamenco, Latin, classical and jazz. It is a visionary, musically expansive voyage.

Clara Sanabras and Harvey Brough perform at Bridport Arts Centre this Friday, August 9th from 8pm. Tickets cost £10 and are available by calling the box office on 01308 424204 or online at www.bridport-art.com.

Get into the new Volkswagen Golf GTD for under £200 a month

THE new Golf GTD will be in Volkswagen showrooms from Monday, and customers can get behind the wheel from just £199 a month, using Solutions PCP from Volkswagen Financial Services, or from just £25,285 on the road. What's more, with combined fuel economy of up to 67.3 mpg, emissions as low as 109 g/km and an insurance group rating of 26E (four groups lower than the previous model), the Golf GTD is as economical to own and run as it is rapid.

Powered by a 2.0-litre turbocharged common rail diesel engine (TDI) with 184 PS, the Golf GTD can accelerate from zero to 62 mph in just 7.5 seconds, while the top speed is 142 mph. Maximum torque – the characteristic that arguably best defines the easily accessible performance of the GTD – has risen from 350 Nm (258 lbs ft) to 380 Nm (280 lbs ft) from just 1,750 rpm.

While the standard six-speed manual Golf GTD consumes just one gallon of fuel every 67.3 miles, even with the optional six-speed DSG fuel consumption is 62.8 mpg and CO<sub>2</sub> emissions 119 g/km. As evidence of the progress which Volkswagen has made over the years in combining performance and economy, when the first generation Golf BlueMotion went on sale at the end of 2007, it too returned 62.8 mpg and had CO<sub>2</sub> emissions of 119 g/km.

The Golf GTD comes with smoked LED rear lights with LED licence plate illumination, along with standard bi-xenon headlights with LED daytime running lights, chrome dual tailpipes, 18-inch 'Nogaro' alloy wheels with 225/40 tyres, side skirts, a rear diffuser, sports suspension and a large roof spoiler.

Distinctive GTD features distinguish the interior: along with tartan 'Jacara Grey' sports seats, a black roof lining, sports steering wheel, and stainless steel pedals, there is also a GTD-specific gear lever, trim strips and instrument cluster. Standard features include progressive steering, white ambience lighting, 2Zone climate control and a touchscreen infotainment system which also includes DAB digital radio, Bluetooth and iPod connectivity.

As well as high performance, a high level of safety equipment comes as standard in the Golf GTD. On top of high passive safety levels – thanks in part to a passenger cell made from high- and ultra-high strength steels – active safety features include the Automatic Post-Collision Braking system, a pre-crash system, Front Assist, City Emergency Braking, Automatic Distance Control, and seven airbags as standard, including one for the driver's knees.

Optional equipment includes 19-inch 'Santiago' alloy wheels, 'Vienna' leather upholstery, keyless entry, High Beam Assist, Lane Assist, Park Assist (parking sensors are standard), a rear view camera, ACC Adaptive Chassis Control, touchscreen satellite navigation and a Dynaudio sound pack with 10-channel amplifier and eight speakers.

Bowls round-up

Bridport get better of Welsh

BRIDPORT

with Stuart Broom

BRIDPORT Bowling Club went over the border into Wales for their tour this year; their first game was in Newport, where two greens were in operation.

The home club recorded a 220-212 overall victory but Bridport had the two highest scoring fours: Max Dare, Beryl Diment, Mel Griffiths and Christine Cowdrey who triumphed 26-10, and Mary Marsh, Hazel Hallett, Peter Scott and Brian Rumble who recorded a 29-13 success.

The next game was against Rhwbina Bowling Club where ten rinks were in action and the visitors claimed a 160-154 overall victory with again two fours tying for highest score.

Roy Lidington, Billy Street, Peter Scott and Melody Watts and Joan Griffiths, Norman Ludders, Marion Carter and Brian Iversen both winning 21-9.

Bridport won a shortened game of six rinks against Whitchurch 54-42 with Hazel Hallett, Billy Street, Dinah Wilson and Alan Cowdrey finishing top with a 12-4 score.

On their way home the tourists interrupted their journey where six rinks played Taunton winning 146-84 with Alison and Paul Tibble with Brian Iversen claiming highest winning score 28-4; six rinks went to Taunton Deane where they won 135-96 with Ian Newitt, Mike Higman, Mel Griffiths and Rosemary Brooks taking top spot 32-14.

Back on County League duty, Bridport's men beat Wellworthy A 63-55 with Ben Jones, Brian Iversen, Keith Gentry and Bill Payne winning the last five ends to record a 24-11 success to offset the other two rinks losing scores. Bridport B went down to Lyme Regis A 50-68.

Bridport A came up against a strong Greenhill A team in the South Dorset League Division One going down 49-65 but Lidington, Iversen, Gentry and Payne saved two points with a 19-14 success.

In Division Two, Bridport C triumphed over Weymouth and Melcombe C 55-51 mainly thanks to Chris Taylor, Roger Humphrey-Smith, Brian Pratt and Philip Hedges winning 27-8.

Bridport beat Lyme Regis 105-74 in a men's friendly top rink going to Ken Scott, Brian Pratt, Fred Pomeroy and Tom Tocher 23-11.

BRIDPORT INDOOR

with Brian Baker

DAVID Cook, Gordon Lee and Brian Morgan's last placed Team B were the stars of this week's evening league, destroying the lead Team D 20-6.

Liz Walker, Robin Pither and Keith Hicks' Team E came from 0.7 down to beat Team A 14.12. Darren Simpson, Andy Marsh and Derek Harp's Team J were trailing Team H 4.7, before an amazing 1.4.4.3.3.1 finish gave them the points 20.7.

Sylvia and Mike Fletcher and Bob Hill's Team L and Brian Bacchus, Brian Toms and Adrian Legg's Team K won 14.12 and 13.11 over Team F and Team G respectively.

Alan Barr, John Davies and Legg's Team G are storming ahead in the morning league, big seven and eight counts helped them to a stunning 26.6 win over Team D.

Jill Spinney, Kay Cox and Brian Legg's Team H, Reg Dodd and Margaret Pestelle's Team E and Mary Hansford, Ann Parkins and Peter Sandall's Team J were 14.5, 16.8 and 11.5 winners over Team B, Team F and Team A respectively.

Mel Hargett, Beryl Stork, Ann Parkins and Brian Baker were top rink in Bridport's 77.70 win away to Dorchester, winning 19.12.

Bernard Winton and Rose and Chris Everest followed with a 23.17 win.

Mike Parsons, Barry Mapson, Rosie and Martin Wilton fought back from 7.13 down to lose 18.19.

Penny and Robin Pither, Jill Harding and Brian Morgan did well to only lose 17.22 against a crack four.

LYME REGIS with Paul Moffitt

A QUIET week in the leagues with only the men's A team competing. I have no scorecards for this game against Bridport but believe Lyme only managed two points.

Last Saturday week saw the annual Frank Stone Charity Cup run against invited local clubs. It was a Lyme team that ran out the winners by a plus 17 shot difference. The team comprised Jo Barnish, Geoff Cozens, Naomi Benson and Brian Parsons.

In the two other friendlies, Lyme failed to record a win, with a particularly disappointing result by the men against Bridport.

Results

Lyme Men 74 Bridport 105 - T Payne, D Read, B Parsons, E Skeemer 17-21; A Nabarro, A Brown, G Cozens, B Rattenbury 13-24; M Knight, J Owen, P Stephens, D Meylan 16-14; C Clisold, A Foster, J Moseley, J Beadsley 11-23; J Eaton, J Andrews, R Legg, R Edwards 17-23.

Lyme Regis Golf news

WITH RICHARD JACKMAN

Lyon and Burraston star

PETER Mayles and David Rettallack won the Frost Cup four ball better ball with 44 points, followed by John Cleal and Merv Knight in second with 43 points.

Juniors Bradley Rowe and Stuart Wight were third on countback, also with 43 points.

Lyme ladies were able to take full advantage of a lovely day on Thursday for their August medal and Granny Shield.

Division One medal winner with the best net score of the day was Gilly Madill - 68 from Lesley Jellowman, 72, and third Di Smith with 73.

In the second division, Julie Duke took the honours with a net 69, from Susan Moore 74, and Julia Coote - 76, on countback.

Division Three saw Alice Hindes net 79 finish first, from Karen Nicholson, 8, with Victoria Turner's 82 giving her bronze on countback.

Hanna Jacobsen won the Granny Cup with Jane

Andrews as runner-up. Lyme Regis held their junior open competition on Saturday and it was good to see such a good turnout.

David Lyon continued his fine season by scoring the lowest gross score with a 71 and this was also good enough for him to finish 3rd in the handicap event with a net 66.

The winner of this was also from Lyme, Brad Burraston, with a terrific net score of 63, one shot better than Oscar Perry from Broadstone.

The men's August medal saw the fine scoring continue despite the appearance of rain! Neil Smith's net 67 meant he won the first division from Keith Gibson, 69 and third Maurice De Pasquale, 70.

Luke De Pasquale restored family honour by winning the second division on countback with a net 64 from Neil Hamilton-Rumbold - also 64, and Matt Rose's net 71 gave him third place.

Twisters in Crosby Cup triumph

TWISTERS were comfortable winners of the 2013 Crosby Cricket Cup, defeating Shameless by four wickets in the final played at Symondsburys last week.

The team, all employees of Am-Safe, made good use of the two cricket bats they donated to the competition earlier this season, by passing their opponents score with four of the 16-ball overs to spare, to win the cup for the second time following their first success back in 2000.

Twisters, winning the toss, elected to field, and Joe Ashton (3-12) struck in the first over to put them in the ascendancy.

Several Shameless batsmen made contributions with Derek Walkey, who only struck one boundary before having to retire on 30, providing the backbone to the innings, whilst Tristan Gale (12), Ash Clarke (13), Luke King (12) and Chris Herbst (11) providing valuable support.

111 all out

Mark Lock (3-16), Vajira (1-7) and a late cameo from Richard Betts (2-3) ensured Shameless were kept in check and were eventually dismissed for 111 all out.

Ashton (19) showed his intent when Twisters batted, hitting 16 from the first over, but he was out soon after, after which Lock (24) and Chris Latham steadily gather runs to put them on course for victory.

Lock's dismissal brought the hard hitting Indika to the wicket and he did not disappoint, lashing his 30 runs off just nine balls before retiring just after Latham had done likewise with the score over three figures.

With the scores level Twisters lost their sixth wicket, but took victory very next ball by virtue of a wide.

Both teams were presented with medals, and Twisters the cup, by Fred Bowditch, one of the original founders of the competition in 1976, and Paul Crosby, whose father Colin was the other founder, along with his son, Colin's grandson Jasper.

Rebecca ends season in style

BEAMINSTER swimmer Rebecca Beal finished of her 2013 season in fine style at the Swindon Dolphins end of season meet at the Link centre over the weekend of July 21st and 22nd.

She was entered in six events over two days. She started well with a gold medal in the 400 individual Medley and continued the winning theme across all six of her events, remaining unbeaten.

In total she picked up six gold medals, recorded five new personal best times, and set a new Tornadoes club record in the 200 breaststroke. A set of results that she, and her coach were delighted with: 400 Individual Medley, Gold, 5:35.73, PB; 100 Breaststroke, Gold, 1:20.72; 200 Breaststroke, Gold, 2:51.72 PB; 100 Individual Medley, Gold, 1:13.52, PB; 50 Breaststroke, Gold, 0:36.98, PB; 200 Individual Medley, Gold, 2:36.49, PB.

Earlier in the season Rebecca had been in action at the South West Regional championships in May, where Rebecca had Team GB Olympic swimmer Stacey Tadd in her age group, plus Olympic champion Ruta Meilutyte competing in a lower age group.

Rebecca had qualified for five events this year, the 200 and 400 Individual Medley, 100 and 200 Breaststroke and 400 freestyle, in the 17 and over age group.

Rebecca produced long course personal best times in both the 200 Medley where she finished 17th overall and 2nd Dorset swimmer, and in the 400 freestyle, an event that she had never actually raced long course before, where she finished 12th overall and third Dorset swimmer.

In the afternoon session in the 200 Breaststroke she took another 2.38 seconds of her long course PB to finish ninth overall, reserve finalist and top Dorset swimmer.

With two more races on the Bank Holiday Monday morning Rebecca swam the 100 metre breaststroke just outside her PB finishing in 12th place, and again held the position of top Dorset girl.

With the 400 Medley as Rebecca's last event she finished with a well paced swim to finish 6th overall in a new long course PB and second Dorset girl. The coaches were very happy with the results in such a tough competition.

She will now have a well earned three week break from the pool before returning back to training in September for the 2014 season.

YOUTH RUGBY

BRIDPORT Rugby Club's junior season gets underway this evening (Wednesday, August 7th) with training for boys aged 7-12 and girls 7-10 from 5pm to 6:15pm; boys from 13-16 will train from 6:30pm.

West Bay Sea Angling Club

Rod is tops Barr none in Jurassic Open

THIS year's Jurassic Two Day Open Boat competition took place this year in fine conditions with 33 anglers signing on over the two days.

Anglers fished on charter and private boats and headed off to various marks dotted around Lyme Bay, although a strong easterly wind on both days made for a bumpy ride.

The fishing was steady however with 14 different species including black bream, bass, plaice and pollack coming to the scales.

Rod Barr of the West Bay club was the first day's winner with a black bream and a cuckoo wrasse totalling 171 per cent, whilst Chris Harwood, also of West Bay SAC, won the second day with a nice dogfish and a cuckoo wrasse totalling 136 per cent.

Although the overall results are based on a competitor's best two specimen fish over both days, Rod Barr's efforts on day one were enough to see him take the overall title and the £200 first prize with James Galbraith second with 156 per cent. Keeping it in the family, Rod's son James finished second to dad on Saturday, and was third overall.

RESULTS

Saturday: 1st, Rod Barr 171%; 2nd,

James Barr 149%; 3rd, James Galbraith 144%

Sunday: 1st, Chris Harwood 136%; 2nd, Steve Fowles 128%; 3rd, Robert Stephenson 127%

Overall: 1st, Rod Barr 171%; 2nd, James Galbraith 156%; 3rd, James Barr 149%

John Hansford had most species with nine overall, and various other prizes and pools were given out on each day.

West Bay SAC would like to thank everyone who took part for their support and the sponsors who kindly donated prizes.

INSIDE EDGE - The Dorset cricket scene

WITH STUART BROOM

Trap door beckons for Dorchester and Weymouth

DEFEATS for both our two top local sides against opposition also in trouble means with four games of the season to go, both Dorchester and Weymouth's chances of relegation are increasing.

Dorchester lost to fourth bottom Swanage, whilst Weymouth were beaten by their nearest rivals Winton.

Elsewhere Martinstown stayed in the mix in Division One after Wimborne & Colehill 2nds went down, and Cattistock's win over Weymouth 2nds elevate then to second in Division Three after Dorchester 2nds slipped up against Parley 2nds.

Bridport trail conquerors Wareham by 71 points now in Division Four, and Charlton Down lost top spot in Division Six after losing to Puddletown.

DORSET FUNERAL PLAN LEAGUE
Premier League

Swanage 224-3 beat Dorchester 1st XI 223-8 by seven wickets

DESPITE an excellent 87 from Sam Goodhew and a debut half century from 16-year-old Dan Morris (52), Dorchester went down at Swanage.

Winning the toss and batting, the county town lost Ian Legg (9) and captain Pete Moxom (9) for 26, and although Marcus Evans (21) looked as if he would be able to give Goodhew good support he perished with the score on 68-3.

Pete Diffey and Simon Joslin soon followed, but Goodhew and Morris revived their chances with a sixth wicket stand of 106 as Dorchester ended their innings on 223-7.

James Dunham (2-23 from 10 overs) drew first blood in reply, trapping M Salmon (6) leg before. He then bowled M Thomas (27) and Morris accounted for J Warner (6) to give Dorchester hope at 74-3, but home skipper Ian Booth with a superb 101 not out and Ben Baczala (45 not out) saw Swanage home with an unbroken stand of 150 to ease their own relegation fears.

■ Sixteen-year-old Dan Morris made a half century on his debut for Dorchester

Winton 240-4 beat Weymouth 1st XI 239-7 by 6 wickets

MIKE Kitson put Weymouth to the sword at Meyrick Park to enhance his own side's chances of avoiding relegation, whilst pushing Weymouth nearer the drop.

Weymouth having compiled 239-7 in their innings might have felt they had a chance of victory, but Kitson's century and opener Charlie May's 51 saw Winton home with 25 balls to spare despite having their innings reduced by two overs for a slow over rate.

Despite a resolute 63 from Dean Janaway who spent more than two hours at the crease, Weymouth lost four wickets cheaply before Jim Ryall (55) joined him and added 95 for the fifth wicket before the latter departed for a fine half century.

Matt Lawes (12 not out) and Laurie Whyte (19 not out) took Weymouth to a defendable total but they reckoned without Kitson.

Dave Trotter removed John Duke (9) early on but Weymouth couldn't tame May and Kitson (112) until they had added 167 for the second wicket, and although Whyte (2-53) bagged a brace, Winton were home and dry.

Division One

Hamworthy Recreation 118 all out lost to Martinstown 120-2 by 8 wickets

MARTINSTOWN had a convincing eight wicket win at Hamworthy Rec that sees the move into second spot.

Winning the toss, Hamworthy were pegged back by the bowling of Stu Fry (1-5 from seven overs) who also removed Sam Mills. Captain Danny Dancer's decision to replace Chris Read with himself paid immediate dividends, getting rid of the dangerous Richard Jensen (26), and then trapping Neil Staddon (2) leg before wicket.

Although Nick Berry (17) and Sam Stroud (22) added 42 for the fourth wicket, once Dancer (3-43) accounted for Berry, Liam Banfield (3-18 from ten overs) mopped up most of the rest as the hosts were dismissed for 118 all out.

Martinstown lost Henry Lewis (16) and Rob O'Brien (2), both victims of Mike Fisher (2-21) but an unbroken third wicket stand 98 between Tom Adams (52) and Sam Kershaw (43 not out) saw them home comfortably with more than 13 overs to spare.

Skipper Dancer said: "I am glad I lost the toss as it was difficult to know what to do if I had won it. We were a little bit short in both batting and bowling departments so it makes the win even better.

"Stu Fry bowled superbly and was unlucky not to have had more wickets, and I came on and managed to pick up a couple of quick wickets with the ball swinging around, particularly Richard Jensen as he was playing positively.

"Liam Banfield then bowled with control and took out the middle order by building pressure. Matt Rimmer bowled a very tidy spell and we managed to bowl them out for 118.

"Tom Adams and Sam Kershaw then batted sensibly, hitting the bad balls and looking solid in defence to ensure victory.

"This was a good performance with both bat and ball. With four games to go I hope we can push on and put some pressure on the guys above us.

"We play third and second in the next couple of weeks, and it's important we can try and get as many points as possible to ensure we stay in the top six for next season's league restructure."

Division Two

Beaminster 1st XI 145-8 lost to Cranborne 146-2 by 8 wickets

TEN-man Beaminster could not conjure enough runs to make a real game of it against Cranborne, particularly after a devastating piece of bowling by Phil Park saw them collapse from 84 without loss to 87-4.

Simon Jones (48) and Fred Everitt (32) took advantage of the bowling early on adding 84 in just 15 overs, but the introduction of Park (4-20) saw him claim both openers as well as Beaminster captain Phil Everitt and Nick David, both for ducks.

Jack Walklett (17) and David Percy (21) stemmed the haemorrhage adding 45 for the fifth wicket, but another five wickets went down for 13 runs as they finished on 145-8.

Jones (1-34) and Will Everitt (0-29) kept the bowling tight in the opening spell, but some aggressive batting from opener Ollie Hand (81 not out), Dave Coy (24) and Scott Maidment (33 not out) brought the game to an early conclusion.

Division Three

Dorchester 2nd XI 214 all out lost to Parley 2nd 261-9 by 47 runs

Portland RT 199 all out lost to Stalbridge 2nd 203 all out by 4 runs

PORTLAND RT failed by four runs to match Stalbridge 2nds and drop further behind in the title race.

Weymouth 2nd XI 165-8 lost to Cattistock 169-4 by 6 wickets

WITH Dorchester 2nds faltering, Cattistock moved into second place with this win over Weymouth 2nds whose slow batting led to their downfall.

Martin Langford and Lee Anderson both bowled unchanged for 20 overs after which the Seasiders had crawled to 46-1, and although all top six batsmen got into double figures they finally succumbed to the bowling of Bradley Damen (2-41) and the wily Buddy Langford 4-31 from seven overs, three of his victims in one over.

Captain Andy Jarvis top scored with an unbeaten 36 well supported by Tim Guyett (25) and Marco Nott (20). Jon Legg and Billy Walbridge got Cattistock off to solid start with a stand of 32 before Legg (21) was trapped leg before wicket by Graham Puckett (1-14 from six overs).

Walbridge was joined by the big hitting Steve Tucker and they added 85 for the second wicket before the opener was dismissed for 33.

Tucker went on to hit eight 4s and three 6s in his 62, and with Martin Langford weighing in with 25, Cattistock cruised home with 15 overs to spare.

Division Four

Wareham 327-4 beat Bridport 1st XI 161 all out by 166 runs

BRIDPORT were well beaten by league leaders Wareham who have only lost once this season in this top of the table clash and must now concentrate on keeping ahead of third place Pimperne who they meet in North Dorset in two weeks' time.

Unfortunately a series of missed chances didn't help Bridport's cause as the hosts amassed a daunting 327-4 in their 40 overs.

Steve Bishop (73) and Matt Trueman (56) dominated the Bridport bowler's from the start, although Bishop gave two difficult chances in the opening four overs, as they put on 133 for the first wicket.

Mark Smith (3-60) dismissed both soon after drinks, and then had Jack Hector (13) caught by Liam Toohill to leave them 169-3. However there was no respite as Rich Parsons (106 not out), despite giving several chances which were missed, pounded his way to an unbeaten century as he added 120 for the fourth wicket with Mike Collier (45), with none of the Bridport bowlers avoiding a thrashing.

With a strong batting line-up, skipper Toohill shuffled the order around, in an effort to glean full batting points.

For a while it looked as if they might do it after the early loss of Smith (9), as Duane Gay (23) and Toby Hall (35) put on a rapid 47 for the second wicket.

Cerne Iverson (22) replacing Gay, wasn't fazed by the fast bowlers and went about his business smashing them to all parts in a very impressive and entertaining innings as Bridport reached 83-2 in just 17 overs at a faster rate than Wareham.

However James Hector ripped out the middle of the visitors batting in an impressive 5-34 from 12 overs and despite Rod Gay (26) marshalling the lower order, Bridport fell short of their target of 170 for maximum points.

Toohill said: "We always knew this was going to be a tough game, especially without leading wicket taker Alex Lee, although there are some positives to take from the game.

"The way Duane (Gay), Toby (Hall) and Cerne (Iverson) batted at the top of the order was superb, they did not let the score or bowlers put pressure on them. They just played freely which was fantastic."

Division Five North & West

Martinstown 2nd XI 70 all out lost to Abbotsbury 260-9 by 190 runs

MARTINSTOWN 2nds were well beaten by Abbotsbury and remain second bottom of Division Five (N & S).

Portland Red Triangle 2nd XI 84-2 beat Marnhull 2nds by 8 wickets

PORTLAND gained revenge for their early season defeat at the hands of Marnhull with an emphatic eight wicket victory.

Electing to bat Marnhull had no answer to the bowling of Portland's Simon Bendall as the veteran opening bowler tore through the card with a devastating display of swing bowling to finish with figures of 7 for 19.

This was backed up by two wickets from the returning Jon Cameron; Marnhull's score was aided by 26 extras as Portland had a few lapses in the field.

Despite these lapses Portland never allowed the pressure to ease and it was left to Bendall to claim the final wicket with yet another cleaned bowled.

Portland lost two wickets in quick succession as Marnhull fought back, but with David Males (33 not out) in fine form it was left to Andy Thomson to blunder the winnings runs with a classic cover drive for four.

Skipper Jodie Locke was happy to get back to winning ways and praised his side for a great team effort. He added: "A great win and a monumental display with the ball from Simon. We need to up our game in the coming weeks if we are to finish the season in the top three and will need to cut out the errors in the field. All in all a good display, but we can't afford to rest on our laurels."

Division Six

Winfrith Newburgh 85-2 beat Beaminster 2nd XI 83 all out by 8 wickets

TEN man Beaminster 2nds were soon in trouble after skipper Hugh Rathbone had won the toss and elected to bat on a sporty wicket.

Only Dave Hall, Rob Meech and Justin Gurd reached double figures as the hostile bowling of A Raymond (3-22) and S Pattullo (5-16) mopping up the tail, Beaminster were dismissed for 83 all out.

The Beaminster bowlers struggled in return with only Adie Phillips (2-36) having any success. Penman was feeling rather pleased with himself near the end having bowled two maidens, but was brought to earth as a boundary off the second ball of his third over gave Winfrith victory.

Charlton Down 106 all out lost to Puddletown 119 all out by 13 runs

PUDDLETOWN clinched an exciting 13 run victory from the jaws of defeat against league leaders Charlton Down, who were missing injured captain Pete Tucker, in a low scoring encounter at the Herrison Oval.

Batting first they got off to a flying start with 43 coming in the first nine overs before Barry Knight (12) was well caught at slip by James Pretty off Nick Voss. Chris Ascott (30) was then bowled by Jake Pike, whilst Jacob Holland picked up the dangerous Adam Barrett who offered a simple catch to Jack Eveleigh at backward square leg at 71-3.

The introduction of Alex Campbell into the attack saw him claim 5-26 with some excellent seam bowling which saw the Puddletown innings collapse from 92-3 to 119 all out in only 34 overs.

Charlton Down task of chasing down 120 runs to win got off to a poor start when captain Jae Miller (3) mis-judged the length and was bowled by Mike Guelda.

A promising partnership of 28 runs between Luke Voss and Ian Doyle then came to an end when both were adjudged leg before wicket in consecutive overs with the score on 37-3.

It was the introduction of Ascott (5-19) at 50-3 that turned the game on its head as he clean bowled the next four batsman leaving the Downers reeling on 65-6.

John Clancy and Pretty, batted nicely moving the score quietly along to 83 without any serious problems until Clancy, was undone by a low bounce and bowled. With the score on 90-8 off only 20 overs, and with only 30 runs required with 25 overs remaining, the Downers were confident of victory but the final three batsmen were all bowled, leaving Puddletown to win by 13 runs.

Injured Captain Pete Tucker said: "The Charlton bowlers bowled only 35 overs to dismiss Puddletown but conceded 28 wides. Unfortunately the Downer batsmen did not equip themselves for batting on the slow, low wicket and played far too many balls across the line, culminating in seven batsmen being bowled."

SUNDAY

Division Three

Swanage 2nd 177-7 beat

Symene 139 all out by 38 runs

SYMENE once again slipped to defeat at Swanage where after a painfully slow start in reply they were undone in the middle of the innings, and despite a late blast from captain Graham Bartlett they couldn't reach what was perhaps an achievable target.

Missing a bowler in Colin Willcox through illness, Paul Edwards (2-22 from eight overs) stepped up and produced a superb spell of accurate nagging bowling, bowling the big hitting Scott McCann (10) and tempting Ricky King down the wicket to give Phil Hawkins a stumping. There was also some neat spells from Liam Toohill (0-27) and Bartlett (1-23).

However a solid 65 from Chris Wycherley and a late flourish from M Joby (34) saw Swanage reach 177-7 in their allotted overs.

Symene started slowly and lost Mark Smith early on and then Nigel Toohill (8) as they reached 37-2 after 15 overs. When they tried to accelerate Wycherley (4-17) backed up by White (0-11 from eight overs) troubled them and they were in trouble at 79-6.

Bartlett thumped a quick 34 as he injected some pace into the innings, but when he went at 121-8 the Symene innings soon folded.

FOOTBALL - Pre-season friendlies

BY STUART BROOM

Five star Magpies far too strong for Bees

Bridport 1 Dorchester 5

BRIDPORT picked up their game after the disappointment of Saturday's performance against Chard Town, but found Dorchester Town's fitness and finesse too much for them, particularly in the last 30 minutes of this pre-season friendly.

There were some good performances particularly from Darren Watts, who is beginning to show his class after two seasons away.

The return of Danny Green is a real bonus for Dorchester after such a long lay-off, and despite his age Nick Crittenden showed what an asset he is to the Magpies.

Dorchester, who have looked sharp in pre-season to date, showed their intent right from the kick-off and inside the first minute Sam Filkins made a great save, beating away Crittenden's shot from the angle of the area as he burst through.

Ben Watson then had a legitimate claim for a penalty after his shot on the turn appeared to strike a Bridport defender on both hands, but referee Glen Barter ignored the striker's plea.

They did take the lead however on five minutes when Harry Bell's dink into the box saw Green use his speed and strength to get behind the defence, control the ball and shoot home from an angle in one motion.

On 11 minutes he showed he could shoot from long range as well; his 30-yard angled drive just clearing Filkins' crossbar.

The Dorchester defence in general were looking very strong with Charlie Clough dominating in the centre, but they were caught out soon after and new keeper Tim Sandercombe had to tip away Matt Condliffe's shot for a corner.

Dorchester almost increased their lead on 18 minutes when two Bees defenders left a long ball for the other and the striker ran free, but his 25-yard lob as Filkins came to close him down just cleared the crossbar.

The Bees' keeper then did well to parry Lewis Morgan's shot away after Crittenden had put him in on goal.

Bridport were gifted an equaliser on the half hour when Sandercombe completely miskicked Clough's headed back pass and Tom Richardson gratefully picked up the rebound and rolled it into the goal.

This seemed to spring Bridport into life and they started getting stronger with Dan Wise firing a 25-yard shot on the run into the side netting.

Four minutes before the break Dorchester regained the lead through Watson in an identical situation to earlier, this time his lob over the advancing Filkins was perfection.

Both sides made several changes at the break and with Watts now finding his range with a selection of superb passes, Bridport held their own.

Jamie Beasley showed his electric speed down the left in a neat move with Jake Smeeton before firing in a shot that took a deflection off Bees skipper Ryan Hayter.

At the other end substitute Adam Still showed good skills down the left before firing in a cross that had Clough scrambling to head clear.

Magpies' Elliot Ward, looking to impress manager Phil Simkin and sign a contract, did that with some neat skills; first setting up Crittenden for a shot that was deflected, before having a close range shot charged down by Hayter.

The Bees were beginning to tire as Dorchester's superior fitness began to tell.

Filkins came to the rescue again tipping Morgan's close range rasping volley over the top after he had neatly flicked the ball over a defender, the Magpies increased their lead midway through the half.

Watson caused confusion inside the Bees' box with a neat run and lay off and when the ball was hacked off the line as it ran towards goal, it hit Morgan and rebounded into goal.

It was now almost one-way traffic, and despite Watts' attempts to get his forwards going, Dorchester, with young sub Calvin Brooks showing speed and guile in defence, mopped everything up.

The Magpies' fourth came when Ward's shot came back off the post for Morgan to roll in his second.

Then Russell Legg produced a neat bit of footwork at the other end in a rare Bridport foray, but after beating two defenders in a mazy run his thunderous shot cannonned back off the crossbar.

Ward wrapped up the scoring two minutes from time, tapping home Beasley's low left wing cross at the far post.

County town boss Simkin was full of praise for Bridport both on and off the pitch after the comprehensive victory: "I thought the players didn't let Bridport down at all, they competed very well, we were just far fitter."

"It was comprehensive, but it was a good run out for us on a nice surface. We got everyone on the pitch and I was pleased that Danny Green got his goal."

"We took him off at half-time because his thighs were a bit stiff, but he's going to be a very good player for us, whilst Critts was once again incredible."

Supporters fund Magpies to the tune of £4,000

DORCHESTER Town Football Supporters' Club (DTFSC) donated £4,000 to the club during the past year it was reported at their recent AGM.

Secretary Harold Gill said in his report that this was a small increase on the previous year, and took the total to £344,363 donated over the DTFSC's long history.

He reported that the match day cash draws continued to be their main source of income, but that the tombola and stall at the Community Fun Day were also successful.

He added that unfortunately the supporters' club vice-chairman and committee member, Ashley Jury, had to stand down during the season due to ill health, but that they welcomed Malcolm Davenport, who had joined the committee.

Mr Gill also reported that members of the DTFSC had visited Dorset County Hospital last Christmas for the first time where they distributed presents to the children in company with manager Phil Simkin and his assistant Stuart Heath, and he thanked Monica Edge and Janet Gill for setting this up and raising funds for the presents.

In thanking all the committee and members for their valuable support he also mentioned life vice president Les Phillips, who had come out of retirement to help with the cash draw.

In concluding he added that this year will be a real challenge with the inclusion of the Community Trust, and urged everyone in the town to help in any small way they could to make the club successful, and wished Phil Simkin and the players success on the field.

The club's financial report showed that whilst they still made a loss, the operating deficit had been reduced to £176.74 last year compared to £700.69 the previous year.

All the officers and committee were re-elected. They are: Chairman of the General Purpose Committee - Terry Spracklen; Secretary - Harold Gill; Asst Secretary - Terry Spracklen; Treasurer - Terry Spracklen; Asst Treasurer - Dave Ring; Committee members - Malcolm Davenport, Monica Edge, Heather Hayward.

Walker sees red as trophy is shared

Dorchester Town 1 Weymouth 1

NATHAN Walker was sent off just two minutes from the end of this local derby that saw Ben Watson score a late equaliser to cancel out Sam Poole's first half header giving Dorchester a share of the Bob Lucas Trophy for the second year running.

Playing against the side he left in the summer, referee Ben Cobb had no hesitation in sending the Terras defender off, indicating he had elbowed Elliot Ward in the face as they lined up for a free kick.

Weymouth had the better of the first half and deservedly led at the break, but after a frantic ten minutes at the start of the re-sumption that saw three players shown yellow cards, Dorchester finally found their form and dominated the second half.

Weymouth almost took the lead on four minutes when skipper Scott Walker, who had another good game down the left flank, played a gorgeous ball into the home area which was met by the rushing Ben Joyce at the far post, but he steered his sidefooted volley just wide of the upright.

Dorchester were also having some success down their left side where Neil Martin and Jake Smeeton were linking up well, and the pair almost set up an equaliser on 18 minutes - Watson stepping over Martin's resultant low cross - but unfortunately the ball ran across the face of goal to safety.

Dorchester were having problems finding their men, and were missing their normal crisp, close passing game, whilst Weymouth were not allowing them to settle on the ball, with Danny Clay particularly aggressive in midfield.

Magpies skipper Charlie Clough just got a touch on another superb left wing cross, this time from Joyce, as Stewart Yetton closed in, before Jamie Gleeson produced a brilliant tackle to stop the former Truro City player. It looked odds on Yetton scoring when he was played in, although looking suspiciously offside, but Gleeson managed to get goal side and hook the ball back over the Terra before clearing.

However Weymouth's tenacity was rewarded on 36 minutes when Sam Poole lost his marker at Scott Walker's free kick to firmly head the ball beyond Tim Sandercombe into the bottom corner for the lead.

It wasn't until the 41st minute that Dorchester threatened their former keeper Jason Matthews, but Clough couldn't get enough on Nick Crittenden's corner and the ball sailed wide.

The second half started with a number of niggling incidents that saw Poole booked for felling Beasley, followed quickly by Clay for knocking over Lewis Morgan. Clay was again involved in another fracas that saw Smeeton shown a yellow card.

However as common sense prevailed, Dorchester suddenly found their rhythm and Crittenden played in Beasley with an exquisite ball, but Matthews was quickly out to the edge of the area to save superbly at his feet. Moments later Josh Tennant fed Beasley but his weak long range shot was easily dealt with by Matthews.

Jamie Symes another making a return to The Avenue, almost sneaked in on the left, but was crowded out by Sandercombe and a defender for a corner.

With Morgan beginning to buzz in midfield and Crittenden producing his usual magic, Weymouth began to falter as Dorchester's superior fitness began to tell and they began to run the game.

This pressure began to increase with the introduction of Ward on 65 minutes - his close control and darting runs causing the Terras defence a number of problems - but the Magpies became too elaborate on a number of occasions after working good openings, causing frustration among their fans hoping for an equaliser.

Gleeson was booked before Ward had a shot deflected after a good run, and then after turning Poole inside the box, flicked his shot just wide.

It looked like the Terras would hang on until nine minutes from time when Watson scored a sublime equaliser. Once again Ward tormented the visiting defence, jinking along the byline before laying the ball back to Watson 12 yards out who neatly curled it around Matthews into his top left corner of the goal with his instep.

Two minutes later Martin's left wing cross found Crittenden at the far post, but his thumping header crashed against the angle of the goalframe with Matthews beaten.

Nathan Walker was then booked for a foul on Elliot on the edge of the area before Matthews just did enough to prevent Martin converting Crittenden's cross.

With Dorchester looking for one final chance of victory from a free kick out wide on the right, Nathan Walker's frustration got the better of him and he lashed out at Ward and received a straight red card.

In contrast Walker's younger brother Steve who has stepped up to replace him in the Magpies' defence, was a paragon of calmness with an almost faultless display alongside Clough.

INSIDE: Comprehensive Dorset cricket review

Walker's red card may give King early headache

TERRAS' manager Brendon King's satisfaction at holding Dorchester Town to a 1-1 draw in last Saturday's Bob Lucas Trophy game at The Avenue may be tempered by the fact that he could be without both his first choice centre-backs for the new season.

Nathan Walker was shown a red card a minute from the end for elbowing Magpie Elliot Ward in the face which means he could be suspended for the first game of the season, a trip to St Neots on August 17th, whilst it is now known that older brother Michael underwent a hernia operation following the pre-season friendly at Bridport.

The Walker brothers were summer signings designed to strengthen the heart of the defence which at times last season was very vulnerable, and leaves King with just Sam Poole as a recognised central defender.

By Stuart Broom

King admitted that Nathan is probably going to miss the game, but is hopeful that Michael may be fit enough to take his place, and is sweating on the outcome of the two situations.

On Walker's dismissal King, who was critical of referee Bob Cobb's whole performance, said: "I couldn't see what happened from where I was, but Nathan said he hasn't elbowed their player (Ward); he has pushed his arm into him to get away from him. Nathan knows better than to do that. He's pushed his arm across, and the referee has seen it as something else."

Cobb was in charge of the Dorset Senior Cup match in February where Kyle Critchell received an injury that put him out for the season. Weymouth were outraged that the Wimborne player only received a caution rather than a red card, and King thought that he was not the right man for this local derby and a stronger referee was required, something echoed by Magpies' manager Phil Simkin.

The Terras boss was happy with his team's performance and felt that a draw was a fair result in the end. "I thought we were the better team in the first half and were a bit disappointed to only go 1-0 up at half-time," said King. "They were the better side in the second half and probably deserved something out of it in the end."

"Our first-half performance was really good, but second half wasn't. We stopped doing the things we had been doing in the first half and maybe you've got to give them a bit of credit because they changed their shape and we didn't get to grips with it.

"Overall, we're disappointed we haven't won the game, and on reflection, we're playing against a team from a higher league, so in that respect it's not too bad.

"It was our first game against higher opposition and our hardest game to date. You're not going to get the ball for 90 minutes, and I thought we rode it out well but their lad popped up at the end with a decent finish."

Former Glover Aiden Chainey is still keeping his options opened but King said there may well be news of another signing soon.
